DIY Christmas

According to a recent article in Good Housekeeping magazine, experts are predicting a trend for DIY decorations this year, stating that as a nation of crafters, Christmas will be the perfect time to proudly hang artistic offerings around the house for all to see and enjoy. For those not into getting out paint and glue, it is suggested that homes will be ditching the glitz and glamour for subtle, stripped back country styles using natural materials, with trendy pieces made from wood, feathers, pine cones and dried fruit. Apparently, sustainability will also be high on agendas with re-usable and recycled products such as re-usable crackers and advent calendars popular choices for families.

Be sure to be in the know about what is expected to be trending for Christmas 2022 with a visit to Harrogate Christmas & Gift - the place where retailers and buyers can get a 'heads-up' from suppliers on predicted trends for the coming season. Register online at www.harrogatefair.com

Say it with fragrance

The smell of Christmas will be in abundance with diffusers and candles from Lesser and Pavey at Harrogate this Christmas. Diamante diffusers – Bling will always be popular, and we have these available in silver and rose gold in colour ready for Christmas.

These diffusers come in 100ml, 200ml, 500ml diffuser with quality perfumes and reeds some available in gift set of 3 diffusers, with candle and diffuser gift sets as well. Attractive gift boxes add to the product finished look. The candle range of Desire come in a glass jar with lids and tassel, various fragrances, and colours red, green, gold and white.

Winter wonderland

Portfolio Home will be showcasing its luxury new 100% cotton bedlinen at Harrogate: autumnal themed and including animal designs on a crisp white background. The collection features a 200 thread count bedding which makes it incredibly soft to the touch; and the bed linen is fully reversible providing two looks in one.

The collection includes two original designs – Robins and Deer which have been designed in the UK using a combination of fine art drawing and painted in watercolours. The winter scene features animal families nuzzled together and has been created to coordinate with any bedroom for the winter season.
