

Ensuring your safety

With new government measures announced regarding the Omicron Coronavirus variant, the organisers of Harrogate Christmas & Gift reassure show participants that all necessary measures will be taken to ensure the absolute safety of everyone attending the show.

Simon Anslow, show organiser, explains: "Obviously it is early days since new measures due to the Omicron variant have been announced and we are liaising closely with the Harrogate Convention Centre and following government guidelines to keep the industry updated. Robust covid precautionary measures are already in place at the venue and these will be evaluated and updated according to latest advice. We look forward to welcoming everyone to the show in 2022 and will be taking every measure to safeguard the event and make it enjoyable for all involved."

More information and registration are available online at www.harrogatefair.com

Festive fragrance

For over 20 years, The English Soap Company has been making soap in the heart of the Sussex countryside. Beautifully packaged in recyclable illustrated paper or card wraps, its soaps and candles are bursting with festive fragrance. Frankincense and Myrrh, Mulled Wine, Cinnamon and Orange and much more, its soaps and candles evoke nostalgic memories of what Christmas means to us all!

The company offers a wide range of Christmas designs in soaps and candles which make ideal stocking fillers or can be combined to make full gift sets.

Visit The English Soap Company on Stand A40

Christmas cushions

Portfolio Home's new festive collection includes soft fleece throws and tapestry velvet cushions which have been designed to help increase consumer basket value during the festive period.

From elegant seasonal scenes to fun, novelty Christmas characters, Portfolio Home has an array of new products for home & gift departments. The new range includes low-cost, reversible filled tapestry cushions that depict modern scenes with a warm vintage feel and on-trend novelty characters and wonderful throws which have been designed to create a nostalgic Christmas feeling.

Visit Portfolio Home on Stand A3