

Get set for Christmas

Whilst the UK has unexpectedly been bathed in sunshine for the last few weeks, it's now officially autumn and we are fast approaching what – for most retailers – is the busiest time of the year.

Whilst you are getting out the baubles and tinsel and decking your halls with boughs of holly – don't forget to register for your most important trade show of the year – Harrogate Christmas & Gift which takes place from 10th to 13th January 2015 at the Harrogate International Centre.

This is a favourite buying platform for garden centres, department stores, independent retailers, visitor attractions, museums and church shops to name but a few – as the show is packed with not only everything imaginable for Christmas, but fabulous gift ranges for the home and garden too.

The show has more confirmed exhibitors than at this time last year; and as well as all of your favourite, well-known brands we have more than 30 new companies attending for the first time with some exciting new products to tempt your customers in 2016.

Visit www.harrogatefair.com for full details and to register.

Something for the entire year

The Satchville Gift Company will be launching its new Christmas ranges at Harrogate Christmas & Gift and will also be exhibiting some of its fabulous new collections for spring into summer.

This will include its very popular driftwood collections such as reindeer, trees and lanterns, together with rustic and natural wreaths, hearts and garlands.

Throughout 2015, Satchville expanded its ranges of shop furniture, such as rustic and shabby chic display stands and tables. You will also find a wide choice of decorative zinc planters and containers and potting shed accessories for keen gardeners, together with homeware such as lanterns, hanging hearts and tealight holders.
